

Register online for Great Sierra River Cleanup

Record Searchlight Staff Reports

August 13, 2011

Online registration is available for the third annual Great Sierra River Cleanup on Sept. 17. Last year saw more than 4,000 volunteers from 88 organizations pull about 140 tons of trash and debris from beaches and shorelines in every major Sierra watershed.

The Sierra Nevada Conservancy, which organizes the cleanup, has created a website at sierranevada.ca.gov for registration. Volunteers can pick a site while registering.

Organizers say volunteers should wear closed-toe shoes, gloves and sunscreen, and bring a bucket. The cleanup will last from 9 a.m. to noon.

Call 823-4670 for more information.